Proud Young Artists & their Work Brighten Pond Home

For the 5th year in a row Our Redeemer Child Care Center of Foxboro teamed up with Pond Home, Wrentham's only Residential Care and Supportive Nursing Care Facility, for a special art show that ran through the long Memorial Day weekend.

The show's opening reception held Thursday, May 26th brought young families and residents of Pond Home together to enjoy a display of projects done by children attending Our Redeemer Child Care Center. The art displayed throughout the first floor public areas of Pond Home featured the children's creations with a focus on the celebration of spring, gardens, bugs, ponds, and sea animals.

The young artists, their families, residents and staff of Pond Home enjoyed viewing the art and sharing in a punch, fruit and cheese reception during opening night.

Pond Home resident Ceil Kozial commented on the bright colors used by the children and the apparent teamwork involved in producing several group murals.

According to Liz Molloy, the Director of Our Redeemer, the children take extra pride in their art projects, knowing they will be on display at Pond Home. "It's a very exciting time at our center, preparing for the art show."

Becky Annis, Administrator at Pond Home noted "there is a buzz at Pond Home this time of year in anticipation of the arrival of the art and the young artists."

"We love the connection we are making between three generations with this event," said Annis.

The art brightened the walls of Pond Home and the minds and spirits of all who gazed at them through the Tuesday following Memorial Day.

About Pond Home
